

Welcome Message

Welcome to this blog.

A special thank you to the fictional character José Arcadio Buendía, He inspired me to start writing things down (About Page).

In this blog you will find a growing collection notes about ways of getting things done. You will also find some items that are off topic, but that I felt compelled to add.

This blog still contains errors that are gradually being corrected. You are invited to let us know about errors and omissions so that the blog can improve. Your comments positive or negative are welcome. Please keep them in the spirit of the adage "It is better to light a candle than to curse the darkness."

Comic relief

- Some cause happiness wherever they go; others, whenever they go. ¹
- I never travel without my diary. One should always have something sensational to read in the train. ²
- The secret to creativity is knowing how to hide your sources. ³
- Make everything as simple as possible, but not simpler. ⁴
